

New Store Opening in Mall ... Will it succeed?

A brand new store opens today down in central mall. Word reports that it is a new clothing store selling new and exotic clothes. Will this store thrive or fall?

This new found store has got the crowds stirring and is making the mall gain a lot more visitors. some say that this will be good for the mall and increase its revune 10 fold.

Doomed to Fail???

We have found some sources saying that the pervious owners of the company went Bankrupt a few years back. What does this mean for the company now many wonder.

We have a quote here from a previous employee that worked there before the company previously went bankrupt.

"Hello, My name is ***** ***** . This company was my life and blood. I poured all my time into it and what did i get out of it nothing. it crashed and burned and us employees payed for it.

This company has no future it failed the first time it will fail again. These products are useless and break easily." And there you heard it people, this employee belives this company will fail. But only time will tell for this company. Will it prosper or will it burn again?
